

Accident cost statement code mapping

Claims with accident dates before January 1, 2020 will continue to show the rate group three digit-numeric code. New registered claims with accident dates of January 1, 2020 and later, will be classified under the NAICS class/subclass code. For example, class A would be A0.

On your accident cost statement, the class/subclass alphanumeric code will be mapped to a three-digit numeric code. For example A0 maps to accident cost code 040. The below chart contains the mapping for all classes/subclasses and their corresponding accident cost code.
